Visit to St Paul's Cathedral and Supper at the Rectory 3.00PM Tuesday, 22 May 2012

Our Chairman, David Henderson-Begg, Esq., and our Honorary Chaplain, the Reverend Prebendary Jeremy Crossley, invite you to join them on a visit to St Paul's Cathedral, followed by a buffet supper at the Rectory. We will meet at the West Door of the Cathedral for a prompt start at 3.00PM. 'LECTOR SI MONUMENTUM REQUIRIS CIRCUMSPICE' (reader, if you seek a monument, look around) reads the plaque dedicated to Sir Christopher Wren. We will be able to look around parts of Wren's masterpiece that are not immediately visible to the casual visitor. We will tour the Library and have an opportunity to see the Great Model. We will take tea at 4.00PM and attend Evensong at 5.00PM, after which we will join Jeremy at the Rectory in nearby St Olave's Court for a hearty buffet supper. The cost of the visit and supper is a mere £25. However, we are limited to 25 places for this event, and places will be allocated strictly in order of receipt of payment. Please return the booking form below and your remittance to reach me by the closing date of 19 May if you wish to attend.
